

Jewish Federation OF THE DESERT

Gathering for Good

Caring for the vulnerable - Strengthening Community -
Supporting Jews in Israel and around the world

This has been a very informative week at the Federation of the Desert. On Monday, we hosted former Israeli Parliament member and the first Druze woman elected to the Knesset Gadeer Kamel Mreeh. Currently she is traveling around the country as the Senior Envoy of the Jewish Agency for Israel to the Jewish Federation of Greater Washington. Her presentation focused on her life as a member of the Druze community in Israel and her role as a leader in a patriarchal culture. As a former journalist and TV News Anchor, doing broadcasts in both Hebrew and Arabic, she brought a unique voice to Knesset by speaking to the needs of the Druze community and other minority in Israel. After her noon presentation at the Federation, she spoke to students at Hillel at UC Riverside. She spoke to not only Jewish students but other students who were interested in learning about the Druze Community in Israel.

Alberto and I were invited to attend a special program here in the Desert, hosted by the Jewish Federation of Greater Vancouver. As a community made up of snowbirds several Federations make a special trip to the Desert to meet with their community members and donors. I am working on building relationships with my colleagues, so they feel comfortable about including our Federation in their events or meetings. If you are a member of another community and they are planning a visit, please let them know that we are here as a resource.

Thursday, March 16, 3:00 PM at the Federation. I will be leading an introductory conversation about our September Israel trip (see flyer and information below).

Tuesday, March 21, Federation Golf Day at Tamarisk. There is still time to sign up. You may visit our website jfedps.org or call the Federation office to register.

Is there a need for a Jewish Day School? I will be hosting a discussion at the Federation on Sunday, March 26th, at 1:00 pm, to discuss the need and interest in a Jewish Day School for our community. Please RSVP to gloria.benavides@jfedps.org if you are interested in attending.

A quick glimpse at this week's Torah Portion and how it relates to building community. Ki Tisa. I mentioned in previous emails about the census and the contribution of the half-shekel needed to build the tabernacle—I will leave out the part about the golden calf and focus on the building of the tabernacle. Moses, as a visionary and project manager, needs the skill set of the community to construct each part for the tabernacle. He needs to not only instruct them but to inspire and motivate them to build and assemble them into parts. As leaders in our community, whether you represent the federation, a synagogue, Hillel, or a country club, we are dependent on the collective skills of the community to be successful. So, if you are called upon to be a leader like Moses, to be successful, you need the community with you.

Shabbat Shalom,
Alan Potash, CEO

Israel Guide Dog Center

by Alberto Tejero, CFO Jewish Federation of the Desert

Helen Varon (Chair) hosted a lunch at Wally's Desert Turtle to honor the Israel Guide Dog Center. Dan McGrath served as the Master of Ceremonies and Phyllis Eisenberg was in charge of the raffle. Noach Braun, CEO and co-founder of the Israel Guide Dog Center, was the speaker and Danial Attal, program participant and volunteer, a special guest.

The Israel Guide Dog Center is one of the many organizations we proudly sponsor at the Jewish Federation of the Desert as part of our Israel, Overseas and World Jewry allocations program.

During the event, we had the opportunity to chat with Noach Braun and Daniel Attal who also shared his amazing story with the audience: Daniel, a father of three daughters, completely lost his sight 20 years ago. Soon after his prognosis was confirmed, he fell into a deep depression that cost him his marriage and job. Daniel felt like he was wearing an “iron suit” that kept him from performing simple tasks. Some time later, a friend introduced him to the Guide Dog program and when he felt “ready,” Daniel made the call that turned his life around and would finally liberate him from the heavy burden that was keeping him down. The actual turning point was when Daniel went for a “test” night walk in the city and, in his words, “he felt free and human again.” He could hear, taste and sense his surroundings. With every step he was shedding the heavy weight that had been chaining him to the ground.

Each guide dog is trained since very young and when ready “to work” will spend a minimum of three weeks (day and night) adapting and training with his soon to be life companion. The working life of a guide dog is approximately ten years. After their guide life is over, the dogs retire, and are usually adopted by a family, or work as emotional support dogs. “Yellow” is Daniel’s second guide dog and has been his daily companion for the last four years. Together they have travelled the world, and even walked the busy streets of New York City.

Today, Daniel is fully employed and also works as a volunteer at the Center. He recently married Nadine, a successful designer, and they reside in the city of Netanya (northern central district of Israel). As everyone in the room, including myself, wiped our happy tears, Daniel’s incredible journey reminded us how the Center has impacted the lives of so many.

Through the years, and thanks to your generous contributions, the Jewish Federation of the Desert has partnered with many local and overseas programs to provide hope and opportunities to thousands of children and adults. Please feel free to contact us at (760) 324-4737, for more information.

Without the generosity of people like you, the support we've been able to provide and continue to provide would not be possible.

Jewish Federations have raised $73 million and allocated nearly $61 million to NGO's Ukraine and neighboring countries to support refugees and Jewish communities in their time of need. And as the needs change, we continue allocation funds to meet them.

Because of JFNA's partner agencies, the Jewish Agency for Israel, JDC and World ORT, have been working steadily in Ukraine for generations - we've been able to be on the ground responding to emergency needs from day one of the conflict.
